Anxiously Awaiting- Big Brew 2004

National Homebrew Day has come and gone. Everyone had a great time soaking up the sun and suds provided by Mother Nature and Cape Cod Beer. 1056 Brown Ale was brewed by all the members and we can't wait to taste the results.

Initial feedback has reported some frantic and messy fermentations. First tastes have not been overwhelmingly hoppy as might have been expected. Maybe some very diligent members will have a sample at the June meeting.

All members should expect to bring one or two bottles to the July meeting for everyone to sample. Also be prepared to provide insight as to what you did to it after May 1st. Everyone will be able to appreciate how some small and maybe large changes can dramatically affect the final product.
